JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

A Tribute

In this year of his death, we pay tribute to our late beloved president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, for the inspiration and leadership he provided for us, the new generation.

Young in years and in spirit, strong in courage and in conviction, he welcomed the turbulence and the tribulations of our world as a challenge to the human spirit. His own exuberance and eloquence in the face of adversity reawakened in us an awareness of the heritage of freedom we must cherish and preserve, and the goals we must pursue.

He called us to "struggle against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, disease and war itself"; to establish "a new world of law, where the strong are just and the weak secure and the peace preserved . . . The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world."

His words and his example have provided a glow that lights the way for us, the new generation. We feel privileged to have been growing up during that brief time that his presence was permitted to illuminate the world.

SIDNEY GREENE

Dedication

To succeed, you must work up to your fullest capacity. You are going out into a fiercely competitive world. Get as much higher education as you possibly can, and equip yourselves with skills that will get you a good job. This is the first step to success and happiness.

Mr. Sidney Greene's advice to the graduating class of 1964 has characterized his own approach toward living and his seventeen years of service at Morris High School. As mathematics teacher, acting chairman of the Mathematics Department, chairman of the program committee, and administrative assistant, he has brought to each successive task those skills and that spirit of "being part of an institution" that enrich those he serves and bring personal fulfillment.

In this reciprocal relationship, Mr. Greene has been happy working with the friendly students, congenial faculty, and sympathetic principal. His own cooperative, congenial attitude have helped perpetuate the Morris Spirit which Mr. Greene has found so rewarding.

At a crucial time in our own lives, made more difficult by the complexity and uncertainty of our times, Mr. Greene's firm conviction that the road to personal fulfillment lies in being equipped to serve one's society provides us with a guideline for making the choices which now face us. In gratitude for the fine example of success through interest and effort that you have provided, Mr. Greene, we, the graduating class of 1964, dedicate the "Tower" to you, with the knowledge that when we turn to our yearbook for the inspiration that our own past can provide, you will be there to remind us of the spirit and attitudes that will help us build our own successes.

Paula Ertel

Principal's Message

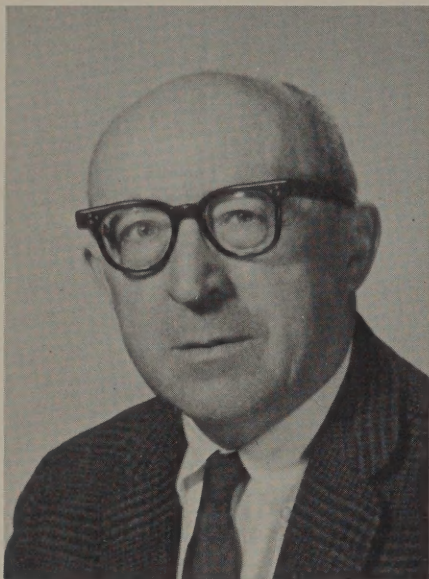

In this yearbook the class of 1964 records the history of its days at Morris, and another volume joins the many that have preceded it. In its pages you can recall the friendships and relive the experiences of your high school years. As you read it in years to come, you will renew the memory of associations with students and faculty, associations that have given you hours of happiness and that have left lasting influences on your lives.

You are going into a changed and challenging world, a world that demands more of you than it did of the graduates of the past, but a world that offers more to those who meet the demand. Invention, and particularly automation, have reduced the unskilled jobs but created rich new opportunities for the skilled. Our nation is challenged to perfect its democracy at home and to resist the onslaughts of communism from without. By continuing your education through reading and study, you can meet the demands of the world, take a rewarding place in it, and aid in the struggle for civil rights and a richer and better life for all men.

As you leave Morris, I thank you for what you have done for the school, and I wish you a full measure of success and happiness in your future careers.

Sincerely yours,
Paul Schweitzer

President's Message

In looking forward to the moment which marks the end of our high school career, we glance back at our years at Morris High. By providing us with programs and teachers dedicated to the task of developing our skills, broadening our horizons, widening our understanding, and promoting our intellectual and emotional growth, those years have helped prepare us to find our place in the productive adult world.

Education for all has ever been a part of the American heritage. However, in our time there has developed a new emphasis on the quality of that education.

The late President Kennedy gave impetus to that move for quality education throughout our land by his own appreciation of its fundamental role in our national life. "Our progress as a nation can be no swifter than our progress in education. The human mind is our fundamental resource. . . . Our twin goals must be: a new standard of excellence in education and the availability of such excellence to all who are willing and able to pursue it." He had "faith in man's ability through the experiences of his reason and judgment to increase for himself and his fellow man the amount of justice and freedom and brotherhood which all human life deserves."

Mingled with our memories of many happy moments shared with friends here at Morris, is our knowledge that Morris has been in the forefront of our city's schools in her attempt to establish programs which will enrich her students and thereby their society. The work co-operatives, the higher horizons and honor classes, the counseling services and after-school study program have all been part of our educational heritage, better enabling us to face the future that is ours.

As we leave Morris High School, we remember the words of our late beloved president: "We dare not forget that we are the heirs of that first revolution. Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans." Now we must bear that torch of responsibility to our country. As we bid our beloved school farewell, we acknowledge this vow. We shall not seek tasks equal to our powers. We shall seek powers equal to our tasks.

Your first impression of Morris?
Her towers?
Her friendly teachers?
Her peaceful lunchroom?
Her terrific assembly programs?
The hectic halls?
Her terrible assembly programs?
Getting on the buses through the back door?
Our great basketball team?
The up stairway with the students going down?
Uniform exams?
Cutting class?
Grouchy bus drivers?
The down stairway with the students going up?
The snow storm when they closed the schools?
The snow storms when they didn't?
Giving the substitutes a hard time?
Late to class slips?
The Joe Cuba Dance that never was?
Sneaking on lunch lines?
Giving artificial respiration in first aid class?
Coming back to school after the summer?
And changing programs cards through the winter?
Filling out Delaney cards . . . and Delaney cards . . . and Delaney . . . ?
Three students to a locker?
Smoked filled bathrooms?

Looking Back

Never did we realize that three years could go as fast as they have at Morris, leaving behind a great many memories, some of which were the happiest we have ever known.

It seems as if it were yesterday when we first walked through the huge halls of Morris, not knowing where we were going or what was to come. Still vivid in our minds, of course, are the immediate joys of wandering in search of our classrooms, filling out "a few" Delaney cards, and getting our programs signed. Fortunately, we became acquainted with our new school within a few days and began to feel at home when Alfred Woods, our M.O. President, welcomed us amiably. How about the host of friends we made among Morrisites, new and old?

The year's outstanding activities began on October 3, 1961 when Duncan Hall greeted Lieutenant, J. G. Donald Patterson and his Navy Band. We were truly stirred by the 35-piece band's rendition of the famous "Victory at Sea."

After our orientation period, from September through November, we became absorbed in the excitement of the basketball season, which proved to be quite thrilling. Despite our losses to Columbus and Clinton High Schools during the season, our Morris Bulldogs managed to get to Madison Square Garden to play in the PSAL play-offs. We'll never forget the pounding of our hearts as we defeated Midwood High School, only to have our spirits dampened when our Bulldogs lost to Wingate High in a return bout. Nevertheless, each game will be a memorable part of our sophomore year.

We can also recall the pride we felt on November 22, 1961 when Mr. Max J. Rubin, president of the Board of Education, and graduate of the 1923 class, was presented the third annual Morris Alumni Award. What an honor to Morris to have such an alumnus!

Our interests were quickened by the coming of the Spring Festival in May. "Finian's Rainbow," a former Broadway hit, highlighted the program and displayed the acting, singing and dancing ability of our fellow students.

The new experiences of taking uniform and regents exams filled us with much tension and anxiety. This new phase of our school life was onerous and heartbreaking for some, but the outcome was successful for most.

As we veterans returned in September with confidence, we filled out Delaney and registration cards routinely. We were anxious to tackle such challenging subjects as chemistry and intermediate algebra when we received our program cards. Well, they certainly did prove challenging, and some of us were still tackling them right through the summer! Scattered throughout the year were such events as the Student-Faculty Variety Show and the M.O. dances. It was quite a pleasant rarity to see our teachers performing before us on stage. The Christmas M.O. Dance featured Jay "Santa Claus" Schindel, bringing with him a few surprises and laughs full of the Christmas spirit.

The 1963 Alumni Award was given to Judge Bernard Botein, the Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, for leadership in jurisprudence, on May 10. Among the guests were judges, lawyers, Bronx Borough President, Joseph F. Periconi, and other alumni of Morris.

The Spring season again held in store our Annual Spring Festival. "Bye, Bye, Birdie" was attended by 2,400 people at four sold-out performances, one of the largest audiences in Morris's history. This show proved to be one of the most outstanding that Morris ever presented. At the close of the year, we were once more faced with uniform and regents exams. However, we were happy in anticipation of our upcoming senior year.

M.O. Council elections made Louis Mojica president-elect for that year. The other elected officers were Marie Miller, Carol Jackman, Elena Lopez and Sam Watson as vice-president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and treasurer respectively.

The first talent show of our senior year held on November 22, 1963, brought with it much merriment, only to have it shattered by the tragic news of the assassination of our beloved President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. The shock of his demise paralyzed the nation's activities for quite some time before we began to recover. The famous words of his inaugural address, "Ask not what your country can do for you—but what you can do for your country" will be remembered by us all for years to come.

After much grief, activities were resumed with the first Jazz Festival to be held at Morris High School, to which students contributed their musical talents. The show featured many guests from organizations such as the PAL and other schools in the Bronx.

During this year Morrisites took part in the first school boycott ever to be held in New York City. Remember that we were supposed to begin the new term on February third, but were picketing outside instead? The boycotts revealed the intense feelings that Morrisites felt concerning the integration of the New York public schools.

Our senior year looks as if it may have a grand finale. We are looking forward to the boatride to Bear Mountain, Senior Dress-Right Day, and the prom. However, the highlight of our years at Morris will come on graduation day. On this day we seniors will leave the structure of Morris High in the past, but we'll retain in our hearts forever the memorable years spent there.

That's Jazz

Jazz is a rhythm that you feel
A hidden melody revealed
It's a syncopated syncopation
A very very deep sensation
A vague something that you feel pulsating
With harmony of the finest rating.

It is full of many ecstasies
Which create ideas and phantasy's
With every beat packed with precision
Every tune is a multitude of subdivision
And even though the tempo is mild
Jazz can be called something wild.

It's got motion that will get you swaying
It's a pound of sound that doesn't need weighing
It's "music" using improvisation
The result is a revelation
In description Jazz is gone, crazy and cool
The majority digs it as a general rule.

Jazz is born from an inspiration
It's the unity of sounds through cooperation
Jazz is a stage, which is expressed
By instrumentalists, dancers, poets and the rest
Singers have sung it, actors have dramatized,
It's a composition that should not be disguised.

With many composing interpretations
This music is made of enlivened implications
It is a conceived, organized, developed art
With emotions which surge straight from the heart
It is swung and sauntered, bounced and rolled
With swollen desire coming right from the soul. . . .
That's Jazz!

We leave a class that knows noun from verb.

To Mrs. Budner who really cared,
We leave girls who attend class and are always prepared.

To Miss Roman, the best teacher yet,
We leave a ten-letter alphabet.

To Mr. Israel and his industrious teens,
We leave some exciting new business machines.

To Mr. Buchman who hears us each day,

To the Math. Department that we all adore,
We leave a new theorem, Gillman's law.

To our Co-op teachers, with parting sobs,
We leave an abundance of bi-monthly jobs.

To Mr. Strom, who has our vote,
We leave an all-purpose absent note.

To Mr. Schindel who is really witty,
We leave a brand new prom committee.

To Mr. Levine who's lots of fun,
We leave a Leadership Class that'll get things done.

To Mr. Mottel whose productions bring fame,
We leave a Spring Festival as great as "Pajama Game."

To charming Mrs. Richstone from Arista-land,
We leave a Washington trip that's already been planned.

To Mr. Witlieb, for whom the deadline lurks,
We leave a self-producing "Piper," or a staff that really works.

To Mrs. Bush, who made this "Tower" so fine,
We leave a Senior Class that'll take pictures on time.

To the '65 Seniors, to whom we wish well,
We leave the greatest adviser, Mr. Schindel.

To Dr. Schweitzer, as this class departs,
We leave dear old Morris, and with it, our hearts.
